Trip Extensions – Grizzly Bears

Canada

For an ultimate unique experience, extend your trip with a 3-night stay at a remote lodge in Northwest British Columbia.

There are a range of lodges to choose from: all are remote, all offering superb activity options, including grizzly bear viewing with indigenous guides, eco-adventure boat tours to see sealions, dolphins and porpoises, whale watching, indigenous storytelling, rainforest nature walks, canoeing, kayaking, paddleboarding, interpretive forest trails, etc.

These lodges are remote, so you can expect to see grizzly bears foraging along the shoreline from a sea kayak.

There are a selection of lodges – examples below: many owner managed, most not large, so booking ahead is essential: some up to a year ahead if you wish to visit in peak bear-viewing months of August – September. Access to these lodges is usually by sea or air, depending on the lodge location.

If you are looking to include a very special wilderness retreat in your itinerary, contact us for more information.
